Section 8. Statement of significance: Entire letter of Stewart Johnson, then Curator of Decorative Arts, Newark Museum, - quoted:

"November 2, 1966"

The Krueger Mansion at 601 High Street, Newark, New Jersey, which was built in 1888-89 for $250,000 by Gottfried Krueger, founder of the G. Krueger Brewing Company of Newark and later a judge of the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals, is one of the few Victorian residential structures of major importance remaining in the city of Newark. Both its exterior, with its extraordinary Baroque porch and Commanding observation turret, and its extremely original interior are unlike anything else in the city. The house is irreplaceable, as an historical reminder and as an architectural example, it is well worth saving.

Luckily, although relatively minor alterations have been made to the Krueger Mansion, it is still substantially intact. Its very elaborate woodwork, its parquet floors, its stained glass, and even many of its original lighting fixtures, which were designed to accomodate both gas and electricity, remain as they were when the house was built.

Although it would not be remotely feasible to use the Krueger Mansion as a single-family residence under the present circumstances, it is potentially useable today in a number of ways because of the fact that it was enlarged and adapted to use by the Valley of Newark, Scottish Rite. The addition behind it contains a large raked auditorium with a fully-equipped stage area, extensive men's and ladies' rooms, a large lunch room, etc. These facilities, taken in conjunction with the many meeting rooms in the original part of the house suggest, for instance, that it might well be successfully adapted as a community center for and administrative offices of the housing development behind it.

The Krueger Mansion is, in fact, particularly important as a foil for that housing project, for it has all the strong individuality which the already executed buildings of the project lack.

In view of the above, the Victorian Society in America urges that time be granted for a search to be made to find an appropriate use for the building. Newark has sacrificed far too much of its past to the bulldozer already, this house should not be allowed simply to disappear. To whom it may concern:

REGISTER STATUS: State (1/72) and National (11/72) Contributing or Individual: individual Historic Site/District/Thematic Name: Krueger Mansion Common or Other Names: Krueger/Scott Mansion

SIGNIFICANCE: As one of the few remaining mansions testifying to the city's past industrial importance, the mansion's significance is at the state level, although as an example of highly ornamented Victorian design inside and out it may have some national significance. Gottfried Krueger, a german immigrant who became a local beer baron, built the mansion as his home in 1889 and resided there until 1914. Louise Scott, believed to be Newark's first black millionaire, resided and operated a beauty school in the mansion from 1966 until 1982. The architecture and workmanship is significant for the observation tower at the NE corner and the extensive and elaborate sandstone carvings. The mansion, as an object in the landscape, is a constant in an area which has been subjected subsequently to urban renewal.

ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION: The Krueger/Scott Mansion is located in Newark's Central Ward, an African-American neighborhood, and near the center of downtown. The mansion sits at one of the highest elevations in the city and faces east onto a highly trafficked street. There appear to be a few other 19th C. structures in the neighborhood, but the historic context has been compromised, most notably by a ca. 1970 tall apartment building which now serves as a backdrop for the mansion.

The three story brick and frame structure with a full attic and "english" basement has brick and sandstone foundations. The hipped roof is slate with terra cotta crowns, hips and ridges. The walls and chimneys are brick with sandstone trim. The northeast corner tower with a circular balcony rises above the roof line and is topped by a turret. A porch with a port cochere entry wraps around the east and north elevations with a low pitched roof, sandstone columns and detailing and decorative metal handrails. Segmental arched pediment windows with scroll brackets, wood cornice with dentils and the asymmetrical configuration of the front facade are some of the building's most distinguishing The interior plan is a central hall architectural features. leading to a gracious stairway with a miniature rotunda and skylight which extends through to the third floor. The interior is highly ornate in details; the wall are plaster with oak panel wainscot, door and window trim, the ceilings are either oak coffered or plaster, and the floors are inlaid parquet wood.

PHYSICAL CONDITION:

Structural: good, heavy wood framing and masonry foundations all appear in good condition. Roof structure fair, some rot at rafter ends and plate.

Exterior Envelope: poor, the original brick covered with fake stucco "brick" on three sides caused extensive damage; sandstone exfoliation and general deterioration is severe; whole sections of the building facade are detaching and falling away (1 whole dormer already lost). The porch is in very poor condition with added debris strewn about from current construction at the roof.

Roof: fair, some missing and damaged slate, additional damage may have been caused by erection of scaffolding fall '90. Porch roof is in poor condition with numerous leaks and holes, and penetrated by scaffold supports.

Interiors: fair, interior features may be 75% intact, key missing elements are fireplace mantles. Damage to interior finishes include moisture-related rot and some termite (very minimal) damage to the wood wainscot in the basement; minor damage to plaster walls and ceilings, wood wainscot on upper floors; and more severe damage to certain areas of the parquet floors.

Mechanical Systems: none operational. (see special comments) Threats:

Collapse:

Demolition: previous lack of security allowed vandals to remove and destroy historic fabric

Deterioration: insufficient maintenance has allowed advancing deterioration.

Other: large sections (3' x 5') of facade are breaking off of the building due to moisture problems caused by stucco.

Specific Comments: One of the original mechanical systems could be very significant. The entire basement is extensively tunnelled with 14" i.d. terra cotta ducts which connect via sheet metal ducts to wooden boxes at the basement ceiling labelled "cool air" and dated 1886. From the wooden boxes, the ducts feed the basement and first floor rooms (and some of the second floor). Thus, this system appears to have the capacity to cool as well as heat portions of the house, and may borrow technology from the beer brewing industry. Additional 3'-0" high, floor standing cast metal covers were discovered in the attic. Thus, there is evidence of a 2-pipe coil system with capacity to cool and heat. The wooden boxes in the basement, the floor standing units (fully extant in one second floor bathroom), and the terra cotta ducts are all part of the original HVAC system.

PROJECT PLANS (specify past or proposed): The overall objective of the project is to restore the mansion's first floor interiors including main staircase, and restore the view lines from the first through third floors at the stairwell area.

Stabilization (to be funded): the second and third floor ceilings, walls and floors.

Rehabilitation (to be funded): the bathrooms - install barrier free equipment.

Restoration (to be funded): restore the sight line of the stairwell from the first to the third floors including architectural woodwork, balustrade and skylight; install new marble fireplace mantels and period lighting; replicate the period wall coverings; repair the following: architectural woodwork - parquet floors, trim, moldings, wainscot, windows, and doors; and repair all interior finishes - plaster, window treatments, wall coverings

Improvements (to be funded): new electric service; new HVAC; new elevator in existing shaft; security and fire detection/alarm systems; new UV-3 window protection; and install new barrier free equipment in the bathrooms and a wheelchair/ramp access.

Other Immediate Plans (not in scope to be funded): partial exterior restoration and stabilization funded by 1990 NJHT matching grant, and the acquisition of nine adjacent properties funded by HUD. Maintenance Plans (not in scope to be funded): The structure will be maintained by the city's Department of Engineering. In the past, maintenance was grossly neglected.

Other Long Range Plans (not in scope to be funded): develop the site to accommodate visitors with new parking and planting (including demolition of some buildings), and purchase the adjacent auditorium.

COMMENT on Quality & Appropriateness of Past & Proposed Project Planning: applicant is committed to the Proposed Work: The restoration/rehabilitation of the entire first floor and the sight lines to the third floor. They have identified the important architectural features and periods of restoration. Unfortunately, the condition and future function of the basement and the extent of new mechanical systems is not readily addressed in their proposed Evidence of water damage, severe neglect and places of plans. danger due to outdated mechanical systems in the basement should be a primary concern while continuing to address the issues of the first floor restoration.

Past Work (match spent & other work since '85): There is no past work eligible for match spent. There have been three items of past work since 1985: 1) removal of loose historic fabric from the building (stored in a trailer without identification); 2) erection of scaffolding at the south and east facades; 3) photography and dismantling of the masonry surrounding a dormer which was falling away from the building. Currently the 1st half of the exterior restoration is underway.

Use: The mansion is to be used as a cultural center for the Newark community and the state of New Jersey. The center will represent the history of Newark, and the former occupants of the house through special programs, activities and the architecture. This use appears to be appropriate for the building's size, location and needs of the community. The completed building will be part house museum, part exhibit space, and part administrative offices.

Interpretation: The Preservation Plan outlines the dates of interpretation for each of the rooms being restored. The dates range from the 1880's to the 1950's, and some rooms will represent both eras, Krueger and Scott.

Research/Planning/Archaeological Reports: The 1987 report by Grad Associates could have been more detailed, and it is not a comprehensive planning document.

The Preservation Plan developed by Lenix-Hooker and Underwood provides a very general description of the mansion's historical significance. The plan section briefly discusses the time period and extent of construction for each room. This section needs elaboration. The conditions section is a room by room survey taken directly from the 1987 report. The future use of some rooms is unclear, and there is no outline of what programs or activities will be provided for public use or viewing.

The reports by Kastl Associates (1987) appear to be outdated and no longer useful.

A/E contract Documents: The request does not contain any money for A/E services. Grad Associates is not in the business of historic preservation, but one member of their office, Kenneth Underwood, has preservation experience.

CONSTRUCTION BUDGET & SCHEDULE: $1,326,250 (total project estimated at $7.5 mil) Project Budget: Grant Request: $ 663,125 $ 26,020 (see comment below) Match Spent: Committed Match: $3,016,000 (see comment below) Comment on Adequacy of Matching Funds: The City of Newark has promised the match, and is apparently committed to the project for a total of $3 million. Private organizations have contributed $16,000, and another $100,000 (not mentioned in the application) was allocated by the City on July 1, 1992 for Barrier-free Access. Request as % of Project Budget: 50% Request as % of Annual Operating Budget: 305% Non-construction as % of Project Budget: -0-. Although planned, no request has been made for reimbursement of non-construction. The city's contract with Grad Associates is for $244,944 for the exterior and first floor restoration (includes stair hall to second floor), which has an estimated construction value stated in the contract as $2,840,075. Percent of Work Completed (spent/proposed): -0- Past Work (selective demolition, removal of debris) requested as match spent is not eligible because it was completed by city employees and without regard for quality. Project Schedule (Realistic?): The construction schedule is 13 months with 5 months for actual construction. This estimate does not appear to be long enough; the 18 months (as outlined in the '91 application) is more appropriate. Comment on Relationship of Cost to Work (both past & proposed): The amount requested has not changed since last year. The project budget appears to be adequate for the scope of work, but the individual line items in the application are incorrect. The line items do not match the scope and by the applicant's own admission are purely estimated guesses.

ABILITY OF APPLICANT

Organizational Ability of Applicant & Consultants (comment): As with any large bureaucracy, there are some communication break-downs between departments. The organizational ability of the Executive Director appears sufficient, but final decisions on the project must be approved by the Department of Engineering. Grad Associates is a large, well-organized office.

Project Mngmnt Ability of Applicant & Consultants (comment): The applicant is anxious to serve the community and wishes to complete the project as soon as possible. The consultants do what is necessary to comply with their client's requests. Successful project completion will almost certainly require services of technical consultants.

Contracted Professionals & Consultants: Grad Associates, P.A., Architecture Planning Interiors, Newark. PREVIOUS FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE Did Applicant Apply Last Year?: yes, 1990 and 1991 Highlight Improvements/Differences: A preservation plan and a scope of work document was prepared. Is Applicant a 1991 Grantee?: NO

Is Applicant a 1990 Grantee?: Yes

1 - 1 - 1 - 1

Does '92 Request Differ From '90 Grant? (explain): The amount of the 1992 grant request was calculated by subtracting the 1990 grant award from the $1.1 million maximum grant funding per project. The scope of the 1992 request does not overlap with the 1990 grant award for exterior restoration of the Krueger/Scott Mansion.

SPECIFIC RECOMMENDATIONS ON ANY ASPECT OF THE PROJECT: The applicant needs to be clearer on their preservation philosophy by looking at the building as one cohesive unit rather than each separate room or phase, and develop specific programs which will be employed when the restoration is complete. The work needs to be prioritized and the proposed sequence reconsidered. More historical and archeological research into the building should be completed especially with regards to the contemporary heating/cooling system in the basement. Preservation consultants should be used in conjunction with Grad Associates. If funded, all of the above should be incorporated into the conditions of the grant award.
