WHY THE HIGHLANDERS?

The area on which the NJIT campus sits, now known as University Heights, was formerly called the Newark Highlands. The mailing address of the University used to be on High Street, until the road was re-named Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard.

2005 Outlook

The New Jersey Institute of Technology baseball team has improved in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference standings each season under head coach Brian Callahan. The only way to continue that trend in 2005 would be to win the championship.

The Highlanders were the runners-up in both the regular season and CACC tournament a year ago. In the process, they set a school record for victories with 23, and earned their first ECAC Division II playoff berth. The success earned Callahan CACC Coach of the Year honors, and nine out of 12 starters return.

"Last year was very special for us," Callahan said. "Although we did not win the conference, we became the first team in the Division II history of NJIT to reach the finals. Even though we lost eight players from last year's team (including CACC Player of the Year Chris Schwartz), we return some high-caliber players. The key to our offense will be our team speed, and I also believe we have the best defensive team in my five years at NJIT."

While Callahan lists winning the conference as the season's primary goal, the CACC champion does not receive an automatic berth into the NCAA Division II playoffs. To earn the program's first such invitation, a selection committee needs to be impressed, and every game matters. Callahan has had no problem creating the necessary sense of urgency.

"With the school's impending move to Division I, I have stressed that this is our last chance to leave our mark on the Division II ranks. We took giant steps last season, and now all 28 players must play like seniors. What better way to make Division II history at NJIT than a trip to NCAA's."

BATTERY/DH: The Highlanders' top two starting pitchers return in junior right-hander Chris Legiadre and junior lefty Robert Forbes. Legiadre, a two-time All-CACC selection, walked just five batters in 75 innings last year. Senior Zach Porcello looks for a rebound season in the No. 3 spot. Completing the rotation are junior Brian Ascolese and freshman Robert Pietrocola.

Hard-throwing senior Dennis Keefe will be moved from starter to closer to ease his workload after knee surgery. Pedro Rivera, a newcomer with a strong arm, will often be the first man out of the bullpen and will be asked to be versatile. Freshman Cory Kuzmik, sophomore Austin DeRogatis, and starting short-stop Justin Racz will get work, and freshmen Chuck Leppo and Danny Kapica are the long men.

Senior catcher Phil Resciniti will once again see the bulk of playing time. Junior Jeff Potter has improved steadily and will likely split doubleheaders with Resciniti. Sophomore Jon Palumbo and freshmen Scott Iwanowski provide depth.

Legiadre will be the designated hitter in most games that he doesn't start on the mound. Forbes, Resciniti and Potter are also possibilities.

INFIELD: Last year's middle infield of second-baseman Dan Morogiello, and Racz returns intact. Newcomers Chris Cardone, Matthew Schlitter and Tyler Hamilton will back up. Freshman Mike Turner will begin the season at third base, but will be pushed by junior Jeff Schaffer. The lefty-swinging Forbes is slated to platoon with right-hander DeRogatis at first base.

OUTFIELD: The outfield could end up as one of the best offensively and defensively in the Northeast Region. Sophomore Derrick McCain moves from first base to his high-school position of left field. All-region centerfielder Dan Lupo is already fourth on NJIT's all-time hits list and won the team batting crown a year ago, while All-CACC selection Kwesi Mitchell returns in right. Freshmen Pietrocola and Jerome Coleman and junior Anthony D'Agosta are the reserves.

Coaching Staff

6 BRIAN CALLAHAN

Head Coach

Brian Callahan has guided the Highlanders to their most successful seasons in NCAA Division II. The 2004 campaign was the best yet, as NJIT finished second in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference and set the school record with 23 wins. As a result, Callahan was voted to his first CACC Coach of the Year award.

Callahan, 30, was one of the nation's youngest head coaches when he was hired in the fall of 2000 after one year as an NJIT assistant. He has been steadily building the program ever since. The 14 victories in each of his first two seasons represented, at the time, the most wins for NJIT since it reclassified from Division III in 1998. In 2003, the team qualified for its first CACC playoff berth, a feat it repeated last season with a runner-up finish.

Callahan, who has a 62-96 overall record, is a member of the Division II Northeast Regional Advisory Committee. He has coached 10 all-conference and two all-region players, and one conference Player of the Year. Before joining the Highlanders' staff, he was an assistant at Ferris High School in Jersey City.

Callahan was a four-year letterwinner at Division-I St. Peter's College. As a senior for the Peacocks, he was a Metro-Atlantic Athletic Conference all-academic selection. From 1996 to 1998, he served as graduate assistant sports information director and assistant baseball coach at his alma mater. He is also a member of the St. Peter's Intramural Hall of Fame.

A graduate of Bayonne High School, Callahan received a bachelor's degree in history and elementary education in 1996, graduating magna cum laude, and a master's in education administration and supervision in 1998 from St. Peter's. He is pursuing a doctorate in educational leadership from Capella University.

Callahan resides in Bayonne.

41 ED WARD Assistant Coach

Ed Ward is entering his fourth season as an assistant baseball coach at NJIT.

Ward's duties include instructing the hitters and outfielders along with being the bench coach on game days. He also oversees the program's recruiting. In his first season, the Highlanders broke the school record for batting average (.308).

Ward was the first-ever head coach at Felician College, winning 34 games in two seasons. During his tenure, his teams defeated three nationally-ranked Division-II opponents and one Division-I squad. The Golden Falcons reached the CACC playoffs each season.

Prior to Felician, he spent 12 years as an assistant coach at Division-I Fairleigh Dickinson University, with recruiting, field maintenance, fundraising and development of the outfielders among his responsibilities.

During his coaching career, Ward has recruited 18 players who went on to sign professional contracts.

Ward recently completed his seventh season as an assistant men's basketball coach at Montclair State University, and was the interim head coach of the Red Hawks for the spring 2005 semester. He helped guide Montclair State to the 2002-03 New Jersey Athletic Conference Championship. He has also coached both sports on the high school level.

Ward is an NJSBUA-certified baseball umpire and is the director of the Highlander Winter Hitting Camp and the Golden Falcon Baseball Camp. He received a bachelor of arts degree in physical education from Kean College in 1981. Ward lives in Elizabeth.

39 DAN MOROGIELLO Volunteer Assistant

Former major-leaguer Dan Morogiello is in his first season as NJIT's pitching coach.

Morogiello was a third-round draft choice of the Atlanta Braves in 1976. He played a total of 10 professional seasons, reaching the majors with the Baltimore Orioles in 1983. That season, he posted a 2.39 earned-run average in 22 relief appearances, helping Baltimore to the World Series championship. Morogiello pitched two seasons at Seton Hall University, leading the Pirates to the College World Series in 1975.

Following his professional career, Morogiello pitched 10 years in the Metropolitan Baseball League, and was inducted into the Bergen County Hall of Fame. He is still active in over-30 baseball leagues. Morogiello was the pitching coach at Hunterdon Central Regional from 1999-2002.

About NJIT

NJIT's history spans from the Industrial Revolution to the Information Age. Newark was a factory town when the tuition-free evening school was founded in 1881 to support local industries. From the early days, science and technology have been the engines fueling the university's development.

Over time, the university both anticipated and responded to change by expanding its curriculum and mission. Most notably, in 1919, the university established baccalaureate programs in three engineering fields. By 1975, NJIT offered a broad range of undergraduate and graduate degrees. All programs included significant research and public service components with the goal of providing an academic environment that fostered intellectual depth and breadth, as well as social responsibility.

Today, continuing a fourfold mission of instruction, research, economic development and public service, NJIT is among the leading comprehensive technological universities in the nation. The university offers 100 degree programs in 27 undergraduate majors and 30 graduate specialties. It has state-of-the-art facilities on a 45-acre campus in Newark and a solar observatory in Big Bear, California.

NJIT's Six Colleges

While there has been tremendous growth and diversification at NJIT, its roots are in engineering education. For more than eight decades, Newark College of Engineering (NCE) has been preparing engineering students to use science, mathematics, technology and problem-solving skills to design, construct, test and maintain products, services, and information systems.

The New Jersey School of Architecture, established in 1973, is one of the largest architecture schools in the nation and is nationally recognized for the innovative integration of computer technology into the design curriculum.

The College of Science and Liberal Arts (CSLA), established in 1982, is moving into the forefront of many national research activities from solar astronomy to computational and mathematical modeling. CSLA provides students with the skill sets for the professional marketplace including literacy in the computer, mathematical, physical and biological sciences, as well as the traditional liberal arts disciplines.

The School of Management, established in 1988, combines the best of the traditional business disciplines (e.g., finance, marketing, accounting, e-commerce) with the power of information and technology management to develop professionals who can manage and communicate effectively.

The Albert Dorman Honors College, established in 1993, offers one of the nation's leading technologically oriented honors programs for students who are prepared to undertake a rigorous and individualized course of study.

The College of Computing Sciences, established in 2001, encompasses a department of computer science, focused on both the theoretical areas of computing and the development of new computer technology, as well as a department of information systems, concentrated on applications involving people and organizations.

NJIT: New Jersey's Technological Research University

NJIT plays a critical role in shaping New Jersey's future. As a major public technological university, NJIT is an important conduit through which technology flows into society. The university's educational programs prepare students to be leaders in the technology-dependent economy of the 21st century. University researchers seek new knowledge to improve processes and products for industry. Through public and private partnerships and economic development efforts, the university hopes to grow new business ventures that fuel the economy.

In addition to its degree programs, the university offers a full spectrum of resources in technological specialties including:

- enrichment programs for professionals through the Division of Continuing Professional Education
- programs designed to attract elementary and high school students through careers in technology.
- extensive eLearning courses.
- selected courses available at locations throughout New Jersey.

A strong applied research program is the very core of the technological research university, generating the advances that fuel a knowledge-based economy. NJIT's research programs have grown exponentially over the past 25 years, from a total expenditure of $500,000 in 1978 to more than $75 million today. The university conducts cutting-edge applied research through multidisciplinary centers of excellence, specialized high-tech labs, and partnerships with industry to develop commercially promising new technologies.

NJIT is committed to economic development for Newark, New Jersey, and the region. The university operates several outreach centers that provide direct technical assistance to the state's businesses with the goal of helping small and medium-sized companies become more productive, profitable, and globally competitive.

NJIT is also the home of New Jersey's oldest and largest incubator facility, and was one of the first institutions in the nation to adopt economic development as a fourth mission element. The university's research centers work in collaboration with corporate partners to speed technology transfer, and numerous outreach programs help businesses become more productive. Extensive initiatives in transportation research based at the university focus on the infrastructure New Jersey needs for a thriving economy.

Campus Center Construction Complete

NJIT's Campus Center, opened in September 2004, is the final phase of a three-year, $83.5-million campus makeover. It is designed to be the focal point of a vibrant campus life. The center features a soaring, two-story circular dining hall, sheathed in gleaming, double-pane, energy-conserving glass.

The construction program encompasses two tall multi-story buildings – the East Building, housing the Albert Dorman Honors College, the Department of Biomedical Engineering, and administrative offices, and the center itself, featuring dining facilities, student offices and lounges, game rooms, campus store and ballroom. The two buildings are connected by a sky bridge and a European-style piazza featuring a 55-foot clock tower.

In an effort to improve communication and socialization on the 45-acre urban campus, the architects scaled the complex to create the feel of an outdoor room and give more spatial definition to the campus. "To promote socializing, we wanted to encourage people to move through spaces, not around them," said Thomas Levering, associate partner at the architectural firm Gwathmey Siegel.

The new round campus dining hall adds height and verve plus doubles the dining space. Its smoky gray glass provides a strong presence on the campus green. A 28,000 square-foot, rooftop grass terrace crowns it. Paths around it reroute traffic to the center. The clock tower stands adjacent to one entrance to the center. The donated tower features a carillon that chimes hourly.

The construction represents a major portion of more than a $100 million facilities improvement plan. Completed are additional residence space and an additional building for the business incubator program. Upgrades in the works include two of NJIT's oldest buildings, Cullimore and Eberhardt halls, located adjacent to the complex.

"A good-looking center tells a visual story," said Levering. "A center with the right stuff says life outside the classroom is as important as life within it."

Athletics Facilities

The NJIT baseball team plays its home games at Bears & Eagles Riverfront Stadium in downtown Newark (see next page), home to the Atlantic League's Newark Bears.

Renovations to Lubetkin Field in 2004 added artificial grass and a walking track.

The Highlanders practice at Lubetkin Field, a lighted, campus facility, with a newly-installed SprinTurf surface, adjacent to the Estelle and Zoom Fleisher Athletic Center. A $1.2 million renovation project in the summer of 2004 added the artificial grass, a walking track, and new landscaping. Lubetkin contains a scoreboard and pressbox facilities, and has bleacher seating for approximately 1,000 spectators. It is also used for club sports and intramural events.

The baseball team also has access to all of the other facilities in the athletic center. These include the fitness area (containing computer-controlled biking equipment, Cybex resistance units, and an indoor track), a free-weight room and a hammer-strength weight room, four racquetball courts (which can be converted for squash), and a martial arts/fencing center.

The NJIT men's and women's basketball and volleyball teams play their home games in the main gymnasium of the NJIT's hammer-strength weight room, in the basement of the Fleisher Athletic Center. The facility seats approximately 1,500 spectators. The back bay, "C gym," area can be sectioned off from the main floor, making the entire gymnasium useful for intramurals, physical education classes, and campus recreation time, and able to host multiple events simultaneously.

A six-lane swimming pool is home to NJIT's men's and women's swimming teams, while the two varsity tennis squads utilize the four lighted outdoor hardcourt tennis courts behind the building. The newly-renovated Campus Center houses six regulation bowling lanes.

Bears & Eagles Riverfront Stadium

NJIT is in the midst of a three-year agreement with the Newark Bears Baseball Club to play its entire home baseball schedule at Bears & Eagles Riverfront Stadium. The deal was announced at a joint press conference on February 12, 2004.

Located just a mile from the NJIT campus, Bears & Eagles is home to the Bears, members of the independent Atlantic League.

Opened in July 1999 at a cost of $30 million, the "Den" seats 6,200 spectators.

NJIT is scheduled to host 22 games at Bears & Eagles in 2005. It marks the sixth consecutive season that the Highlanders have played at least some home games at the stadium, and the second with the facility as NJIT's exclusive home.

Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference

When NJIT reclassified its athletics programs to NCAA Division II from Division III in 1997, it joined the New York Collegiate Athletic Conference (NYCAC).

After three years of NYCAC play, the Highlanders began a new era in the fall of 2000 as members of the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference (CACC).

For its first two seasons in the league, NJIT was the only CACC school with full NCAA membership. The others were in a provisional period while switching affiliation from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). However, five baseball-playing institutions completed their provisional requirements in 2003, two more did so in 2004, and this year, Wilmington (Del.) College culminates the transition by making its NCAA debut. As a conference, the CACC was voted into active status by the NCAA membership committee in July 2004.

The CACC has allowed the Highlanders to save tremendously on travel time and costs. NJIT is centrally located in the conference, and three other member schools are in New Jersey, allowing the opportunity to foster local rivalries.

More information is available at www.caccathletics.org.
