2002-03 Preview

The status quo will not be acceptable this season for the New Jersey Institute of Technology men's basketball team. Second-year head coach Jim Casciano has put together an ambitious schedule, and expects increased contributions from his seven returning letterwinners.

The biggest challenge for the veterans and four newcomers alike will be replacing the statistics and intangibles left behind by last year's only senior, Mars Mellish. In his only season as a Highlander, Mellish averaged 20.9 points and 2.9 steals.

"Besides the obvious statistics, we must replace the intangibles, the defense, and the willingness to take the big shot that Mars gave us," Casciano said. "We must distribute our scoring across the board, therefore everyone must step up. We can't live with the same numbers as last year from our returnees. Freshmen are unpredictable, but they, too, must give us production and solid minutes."

To equal or better last year's second place finish in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference will be only one of the challenges put before NJIT this season. Of the schedule's seven potential non-league opponents, three are ranked in the national Division II preseason Top 25 poll.

"You always want to test yourself with quality opponents," Casciano said. "Our conference is underrated and underappreciated. There are a lot of solid teams. But like all the other teams in our league, we need to go out and beat Northeast-10, NYCAC and PSAC teams and beat them regularly. If we can win enough games to put ourselves in position, our strength of schedule may make the difference for a postseason bid."

BACKCOURT

Senior Ahmad Rasool (11.7 ppg, 4.9 apg in 2001-02) will be looked upon for leadership among the guards. An all-CACC selection as a sophomore after transferring from Wheeling Jesuit University, he will be asked to play both guard spots this season.

Freshman Clayton Barker could win the other guard spot. Another option is senior Olivier Eyheramendy (3.0 ppg, 1.1 apg in 11.0 minutes), but Casciano often likes to use Eyheramendy as a "spark plug" off the bench. Sophomore Kevin Burns (1.7 ppg, 1.8 rpg in 16.5 minutes) will play on the perimeter as either an off-guard or small forward.

"We're not deep at guard," Casciano said. "There's uncertainty where Mars's 20 points a game will come from. I could use a bigger line-up, but we may sacrifice some defense."

FRONT COURT

At the power forward and center spots, returning starters Demond Cowins (12.6 ppg, 7.3 rpg, 36 blocks) and Yung Kiely (3.7 ppg, 5.3 rpg) will be pushed by junior Phil Renaud (10.3 ppg, 5.3 rpg, .522 FG%) and freshman Henry White.

"I expect big things from Demond in the post just as I do from Ahmad in the backcourt," Casciano said. "They must be our leaders. Yung and Phil logged a lot of minutes last year; now we need consistency from them. White is like a young colt with all that energy."

Youth will reign at the small forward spot. Looking for a regular role will be sophomores Burns and Randle DeFalco (2.0 ppg, 2.1 rpg) and Argentinian freshman José Mikulas. Junior Mike Lee provides depth in the post.

Junior Demond Cowins led the 2001-02 Highlanders in rebounding and blocks.

Kaplan is a 1988 graduate of St. John's University with a degree in athletics administration. After three years as Manhattan's director of operations, he served as an assistant athletics director from 1991-2000.

Coaching Staff

JIM CASCIANO

Head Coach

Jim Casciano wasted no time in finding success as the head men's basketball coach at New Jersey Institute of Technology. Last season, his first with the Highlanders, he guided NJIT to a second-place finish in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference and was named CACC co-Coach of the year.

Casciano came to NJIT after winning the ECAC Division III South championship in 2000-01 with King's College. The Monarchs also earned their first Middle Atlantic Conference playoff berth since 1993-94.

Casciano brought to the Highlanders his reputation for building winning programs. He spent five seasons at King's, and amassed 12 combined victories in the first three. The Monarchs, however, improved to 13-11 in 1999-2000 to enjoy their first winning campaign out of the previous six, then improved to 19-9 in 2000-01.

"I came to NJIT for the challenge," Casciano said. "I wanted the opportunity to once again build a program, and to work with scholarship athletes. NJIT has great academics, and an athletic department that has a commitment to its athletes and wants to be successful."

Casciano has coached in all three divisions of the NCAA as well as at the NAIA and junior college levels. As a head coach, he has become best-known for rebuilding struggling programs. In his only season at Castleton State (Vt.) College in 1982-83, he established a school record for victories, going 14-11, and earned a berth in the NAIA tournament.

Casciano then moved on to Division-II St. Michael's College in Winooski, Vermont. After two rebuilding years, his 1985-86 squad went 19-10, earning Casciano Mideast Collegiate Conference coach-of-the-year honors.

The next year, the Purple Knights won the MCC championship and earned the program's first NCAA tournament berth in 20 years. With an overall record of 20-11, it was St. Michael's first 20-win season in 12 years. The Knights were ranked No. 1 nationally in Division II by several publications, including Sports Illustrated, in the 1987-88 preseason.

Casciano compiled four consecutive winning seasons with St. Michael's before leaving after the 1988-89 season. After four years as a Division-I assistant, he became the head coach at Valley Forge Military College in Wayne, Pennsylvania. In three seasons with the NJCAA school, he compiled a 50-19 record and had five players earn Division-I scholarships.

Casciano began his coaching career as an assistant to Rollie Massimino at Villanova University. He has also assisted at the University of Delaware, Washington & Lee University, Old Dominion University, and Radford University.

Casciano played collegiately at Drexel University, earning a bachelor's degree in business administration. A native of Bridgeport, Pennsylvania, he resides in Basking Ridge with his wife, Daphne.

JIM CASCIANO'S "TEN-STEP APPROACH" to Academic Success

In his 13 years as a head coach, Jim Casciano has a 100-percent graduation rate of players who have remained in his program for four years. He credits this to his "Ten-Step Approach" to academic success, listed below:

1. Place sincere emphasis on academics.
2. Develop communications with the academic community.
3. The assignment of an assistant coach as academic coordinator, with other coaches serving as academic coaches.
4. Academic Coaches – Time Management Program. (Each coach is assigned players and is responsible for monitoring their academic progress. Use of time management sheets and meeting individually with players weekly or bi-weekly.)
5. Letters of introduction to professors.
6. Monthly Grade Sheets – Each player must personally have his instructors fill out grade sheets and return them to the academic coordinator.
7. Mandatory Study Hall – Held Monday through Thursday, two hours each day, eight hours per-week. Mandatory for all freshmen, transfer students, and any player with less than a 2.75 GPA.
8. Effective use of tutors, counselors, advisors, and resource materials.
9. Effective use of summer school sessions. Helpful in students' maintaining credits and staying on course to graduate.
10. Emphasis on class attendance and minimizing conflicts with classes as a result of practice, games, and travel.

He was NJIT's Outstanding Senior Male Athlete in 1998.

A pitcher/first-baseman for the baseball team, Sonnema hit .307 and had a team-best 3.55 earned-run average in 1999.

Sonnema, who received a bachelor's degree in management, lives in North Haledon. He is engaged to be married to Katie Steinginga in March 2003.

A New Orleans native, Spottswood scored over 1,000 points in two seasons at Valley Forge Military. He averaged 22.0 points per game for his career and was an Eastern Pennsylvania All-Star. He then earned a scholarship to NAIA Division-I University of Mobile (Ala.), where he finished his playing career with two injury-plagued seasons.

Spottswood was a two-time all-league selection for Archbishop Rummel High School in New Orleans. He received a bachelor's degree in health education from Mobile in 1999.

About NJIT

NJIT's history spans from the Industrial Revolution to the Information Age. Newark was a factory town when the tuition-free evening school was founded in 1881 to support local industries. From the early days, science and technology have been the engines fueling the university's development.

Over time, the university both anticipated and responded to change by expanding its curriculum and mission. Most notably, in 1919, the university established baccalaureate programs in three engineering fields. By 1975, NJIT offered a broad range of undergraduate and graduate degrees. All programs included significant research and public service components with the goal of providing an academic environment that fostered intellectual depth and breadth, as well as social responsibility.

Today, continuing a fourfold mission of instruction, research, economic development and public service, NJIT is among the leading comprehensive technological universities in the nation. The university has state-of-the-art facilities with more than 2,000,000 square feet of space located on a 45-acre campus in Newark, a Technology and Engineering Center at our campus in Mount Laurel shared with Burlington County College, and a solar observatory in Big Bear, California.

NJIT's Six Colleges

While there has been tremendous growth and diversification at NJIT, its roots are in engineering education. For more than eight decades, Newark College of Engineering (NCE) has been preparing engineering students to use science, mathematics, technology and problem-solving skills to design, construct, test and maintain products, services, and information systems.

The New Jersey School of Architecture, established in 1973, is one of the largest architecture schools in the nation and is nationally recognized for the innovative integration of computer technology into the design curriculum.

The College of Science and Liberal Arts (CSLA), established in 1982, is moving into the forefront of many national research activities from solar physics to computational and mathematical modeling. CSLA provides students with the skill sets for the professional marketplace including literacy in the computer, mathematical, physical and biological sciences, as well as the traditional liberal arts disciplines.

The School of Management, established in 1988, combines the best of the traditional business disciplines (e.g., finance, marketing, accounting, e-commerce) with the power of information and technology management to develop professionals who can manage and communicate effectively.

The Albert Dorman Honors College, established in 1993, offers one of the nation's leading technologically oriented honors programs for students who are prepared to undertake a rigorous and individualized course of study.

The College of Computing Sciences, established in 2001, encompasses a department of computer science focused on both the theoretical areas of computing and the development of new computer technology, as well as a department of information systems, concentrated on applications involving people and organizations.

NJIT Mission Statement

NJIT is a public, urban, research university, committed to the pursuit of excellence in

- undergraduate, graduate, and continuing pro-

About NJIT

professional education, preparing students for productive careers and amplifying their potential for lifelong personal and professional growth;

- the conduct of research in such multi-disciplinary areas as environmental engineering, materials science, manufacturing, productivity enhancement, infrastructure systems, communications, technologies, and an array of bio-related sciences and technologies;

- contributing to the state's economic development through partnerships and joint ventures with the business community and through the development of intellectual property;

- service to both its local communities and the broader society of the state and nation by conducting public policy studies, making educational opportunities widely available, and initiating community-building projects.

NJIT prepares its graduates for positions of leadership as professionals and as citizens, provides educational opportunities for a broadly diverse student body, responds to needs of large and small businesses, state and local governmental agencies, and civic organizations, and advances the uses of technology as a means of improving the quality of life.

NJIT – A “MOST-WIRED, TIER 2 RESEARCH” UNIVERSITY

Yahoo! Internet Life magazine has perennially ranked NJIT as a “most-wired” university. U.S. News & World Report recently classified the school as a “National Tier 2 Research University.” As such, the institution is nationally recognized as a pioneer in the use of computing and information technologies.

As a public research university, NJIT is educating leaders for a technology-driven economy. The university is rethinking educational programs to emphasize marketplace skills, and redesigning its methods of delivering education. Indeed, computing and information technology underpin every facet of the NJIT mission.

NJIT received Carnegie Foundation designation as a Doctoral II university in 1994 and has ranked among the top universities by U.S. News every year since. NJIT expends more than $50 million in a panoply of research and development partnerships with industry, government, and other universities.

NJIT researchers are making important advances in a wide range of areas, including the biosciences, manufacturing, microelectronics, multimedia, transportation, computer science, solar physics, environmental engineering and science, and architecture and building science.

NJIT plays an essential role in the economic and social life of the state and nation. At NJIT, the objective is to provide graduates with the requisite analytic skills as well as an ability to integrate the work of multiple disciplines to manage and lead knowledge-based and technology-dependent businesses.

The mission of a technological university requires that NJIT continue to recognize emerging trends in the economy, the sciences, and technology, and to anticipate their impact on society by developing appropriate educational and research programs.

Why NJIT?

One of the nation's leading public technological universities, New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) prepares students to be leaders in the technology-dependent economy of the 21st century. Founded in 1881, NJIT currently has a student enrollment of more than 8,800 on its 45-acre campus, of which about 3,000 are graduate students.

- Money magazine's "Best College Buys" rated NJIT sixth among the top 10 scientific and technological schools in the United States and among the top 100 best values in higher education.
- According to Careers and Colleges magazines, NJIT is among the top 15 schools in the nation offering great schooling at a great price.
- NJIT ranks 7th in the nation in campus diversity, according to the U.S. News and World Report survey.
- NJIT ranks first in New Jersey for graduating African American and Hispanic Students, according to the journal Black Issues in Higher Education.
- U.S. News and World Report's "Annual Guide to America's Best Colleges" ranked NJIT among the top College and Universities.
- Princeton Review calls NJIT "an excellent school for academics."
- With one of the nation's most computing intensive campuses, NJIT has been ranked in the top 10 of "America's Most Wired Colleges" by Yahoo! Internet Life in every survey since 1998.
- Students are offered a unique advantage when seeking full-time employment, through strong cooperative education and internship programs as well as close ties to the leading technological companies.
- Students benefit from small classroom sizes and a student-to-faculty ratio of 13 to one.

Athletics Facilities

The NJIT men's and women's basketball teams play their home games at Entwisle Gymnasium, the main facility in the Estelle and "Zoom" Fleisher Athletic Center.

Entwisle, with seating for approximately 1,500 spectators, is also home to the Highlanders' men's and women's volleyball teams. The back bay, "C gym," area can be sectioned off from the main floor, making the entire gymnasium area useful for intramural events, physical education classes, and campus recreation time, and able to host multiple events simultaneously.

The basketball teams also have access to all of the other facilities in the athletic center. These include the fitness area (containing computer controlled biking equipment, Cybex resistance units, and an indoor track), two weight rooms (free-weight and hammer-strength), four racquetball courts (which can be converted for squash), a martial arts center, and an aerobics/dance studio. A six-lane swimming pool is home to NJIT's men's and women's swimming teams, while the two varsity tennis squads host meets and practices at four lighted outdoor hardcourt tennis courts behind the building.

The NJIT baseball and men's and women's soccer teams play and practice at Lubetkin Field, a lighted, natural-grass campus facility immediately adjacent to the Fleisher Center. Lubetkin, which is also used for physical education and intramurals, contains a midfield scoreboard and pressbox facilities, with seating to hold approximately 1,000 spectators.

NJIT also offers several club sports, including bowling, cricket, golf, judo, men's lacrosse and wrestling, plus a full intramural program. The Hazell Student Center houses six regulation bowling lanes.

Physical education offerings include aerobics, archery, bowling, dance, fencing, golf, karate, swimming, skiing, strength training and conditioning, volleyball and water safety.

NJIT and Rutgers enjoy an exceptionally close and productive consortial relationship within the thriving University Heights section of Newark. NJIT and Rutgers students have library privileges at both campuses. NJIT students may also enrich their educational experience by enrolling in Rutgers-Newark courses and in full degree programs in disciplines not offered at NJIT, such as art, music, geology and psychology.

Each year the two universities co-sponsor a common season of theatrical productions, as well as "World Week," a joint program of honors colloquia, and a variety of other cultural and social activities.

New Jersey/New York Metropolitan Region

The NJIT campus is in one of the nation's most exciting cultural and business regions. Advantages include:

- Minutes from New Jersey Performing Arts Center, Liberty Science Center, Meadowlands Sports Complex, Manhattan and all of its attractions, Newport Center Mall, and Secaucus Outlet Center.
- Discount tickets for Broadway shows, museums, concerts, and sporting events.
- Weekend trips throughout the Northeastern United States: skiing, boating, swimming, hiking, and much more.
- The spectacular Jersey shore is less than one hour away.

CENTRAL ATLANTIC
COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE

When NJIT reclassified its athletic programs to NCAA Division II from Division III in 1997, the Highlanders joined the New York Collegiate Athletic Conference (NYCAC). After three years of NYCAC play, the Highlanders began a new era in the fall of 2000 when they became members of the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference (CACC).

The CACC is in a transitional phase. For the last two seasons, NJIT was the only league school with full NCAA membership. The others were in a provisional period while switching affiliation from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

However, five other CACC members have completed their provisional requirements and will make their NCAA debuts in 2002-03: Bloomfield College, Caldwell College, Dominican (N.Y.) College, Felician College, and Teikyo Post University.

The CACC has allowed the Highlanders to save tremendously on travel time and costs. NJIT is centrally located in the conference, and four other member schools are in New Jersey, creating the opportunity for heated local rivalries. The CACC champion does not receive an automatic bid to the NCAA Division II Tournament, but Highlanders are eligible for both the NCAA and ECAC playoffs on an at-large basis.

More information is available at www.caccathletics.org.
