2002-03 Preview

There are many familiar faces on the 2002-03 New Jersey Institute of Technology women's basketball team. To find change, one has to look to the sideline.

Head coach Sharon Beverly resigned in the summer to take an administrative position at Vassar College. The program has been turned over, on an interim basis, to last year's lead assistant, Kim Bowen.

Bowen inherits a squad which returns all five starters and all seven letterwinners. Thus, for the first time in many years, there are high expectations. At 15-12, the 2001-02 squad was the first winning team at NJIT since 1995-96. Accordingly, the Highlanders were selected 4th out of 12 in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference preseason coaches' poll.

The team's new leader welcomes the challenge, however.

"We don't look at ourselves as any worse than a fourth-place team," she said. "I know they only won four games two years ago, but we're well beyond that now. Our goal is to improve from last season, both individually and in the win total."

One factor that could lead to the desired improvement is the 12-player squad size. Beverly was forced to employ a seven-woman roster for most of last season, a problem Bowen is glad to have behind her.

"Having a good bench puts more internal pressure on the team," she said. "Everyone has to work hard to earn their positions, leading to more competitive practices. We should have more healthy bodies at the end of the season than last year, and be able to finish stronger."

BACKCOURT

NJIT will once again start in a three-guard set. Senior co-captain SchrKya Massey (20.7 ppg, 6.3 rpg, 4.3 apg, 3.3 spg in 2001-02) set single-season school records for points (539), assists (113) and steals (88)

after transferring from Division-I Loyola (Md.) College. In her final season, she should be a strong candidate for postseason honors.

Classmate Nicole Ballou (11.5 ppg, 3.8 apg) is a fourth-year starter and second-year captain. Already the Highlanders' all-time assist leader, Ballou will likely be given more chances to play shooting guard than ever before. The team will also look for increased production from junior Lindsey Reggo (10.1 ppg, 35 3-ptrs.).

Freshmen Shonté Dixon and Jessica Vogel are expected to be regulars in the playing rotation.

"Kya is a major scoring threat," Bowen said, "and Nicole gives us great leadership. We're looking for Lindsey to be more of a scorer; her confidence is up tremendously. And the freshmen will be asked for solid minutes."

Junior Laquana Guy and transfer Sharaé Robinson provide depth in the backcourt.

FRONTCOURT

Last year's starters, sophomore Selena Kershaw (11.2 ppg, 8.1 rpg, 34 blocks) and junior Kate Duncan (5.8 ppg, 7.6 rpg) once again appear to be the lead post players.

"Selena had a good freshman season," Bowen said. "Now we're looking for more consistency and more offense. Kate has gotten stronger and looks more aggressive than ever before, especially on the offensive boards."

Graduate student Chevanese Samms (5.0 ppg, 7.1 rpg, 16 blocks) will once again look to use her long six-foot-two frame to disrupt opposing shooters. Five-foot-11 Canadian freshman Breanna Turnbull has shown the ability to play four positions.

The Highlanders also hope for a mid-season spark from sophomore transfer Jackie Lupo, who is out until January due to a stress fracture.

Junior Lindsey Reggo is the Highlanders' top outside shooting threat.

Bowen was a four-year swing player and two-year captain at Southern Connecticut State University, graduating with a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1999. 1998.

About NJIT

NJIT's history spans from the Industrial Revolution to the Information Age. Newark was a factory town when the tuition-free evening school was founded in 1881 to support local industries. From the early days, science and technology have been the engines fueling the university's development.

Over time, the university both anticipated and responded to change by expanding its curriculum and mission. Most notably, in 1919, the university established baccalaureate programs in three engineering fields. By 1975, NJIT offered a broad range of undergraduate and graduate degrees. All programs included significant research and public service components with the goal of providing an academic environment that fostered intellectual depth and breadth, as well as social responsibility.

Today, continuing a fourfold mission of instruction, research, economic development and public service, NJIT is among the leading comprehensive technological universities in the nation. The university has state-of-the-art facilities with more than 2,000,000 square feet of space located on a 45-acre campus in Newark, a Technology and Engineering Center at our campus in Mount Laurel shared with Burlington County College, and a solar observatory in Big Bear, California.

NJIT's Six Colleges

While there has been tremendous growth and diversification at NJIT, its roots are in engineering education. For more than eight decades, Newark College of Engineering (NCE) has been preparing engineering students to use science, mathematics, technology and problem-solving skills to design, construct, test and maintain products, services, and information systems.

The New Jersey School of Architecture, established in 1973, is one of the largest architecture schools in the nation and is nationally recognized for the innovative integration of computer technology into the design curriculum.

The College of Science and Liberal Arts (CSLA), established in 1982, is moving into the forefront of many national research activities from solar physics to computational and mathematical modeling. CSLA provides students with the skill sets for the professional marketplace including literacy in the computer, mathematical, physical and biological sciences, as well as the traditional liberal arts disciplines.

The School of Management, established in 1988, combines the best of the traditional business disciplines (e.g., finance, marketing, accounting, e-commerce) with the power of information and technology management to develop professionals who can manage and communicate effectively.

The Albert Dorman Honors College, established in 1993, offers one of the nation's leading technologically oriented honors programs for students who are prepared to undertake a rigorous and individualized course of study.

The College of Computing Sciences, established in 2001, encompasses a department of computer science focused on both the theoretical areas of computing and the development of new computer technology, as well as a department of information systems, concentrated on applications involving people and organizations.

NJIT Mission Statement

NJIT is a public, urban, research university, committed to the pursuit of excellence in

- undergraduate, graduate, and continuing pro-

About NJIT

professional education, preparing students for productive careers and amplifying their potential for lifelong personal and professional growth;

- the conduct of research in such multi-disciplinary areas as environmental engineering, materials science, manufacturing, productivity enhancement, infrastructure systems, communications, technologies, and an array of bio-related sciences and technologies;

- contributing to the state's economic development through partnerships and joint ventures with the business community and through the development of intellectual property;

- service to both its local communities and the broader society of the state and nation by conducting public policy studies, making educational opportunities widely available, and initiating community-building projects.

NJIT prepares its graduates for positions of leadership as professionals and as citizens, provides educational opportunities for a broadly diverse student body, responds to needs of large and small businesses, state and local governmental agencies, and civic organizations, and advances the uses of technology as a means of improving the quality of life.

NJIT – A “MOST-WIRED” UNIVERSITY

Yahoo! Internet Life magazine has perennially ranked NJIT as a “most-wired” university. As such, the university is nationally recognized as a pioneer in the use of computing and information technologies.

As a public research university, NJIT is educating leaders for a technology-driven economy. The university is rethinking educational programs to emphasize marketplace skills, and redesigning its methods of delivering education. Indeed, computing and information technology underpin every facet of the NJIT mission.

sciences, manufacturing, microelectronics, multimedia, transportation, computer science, solar physics, environmental engineering and science, and architecture and building science.

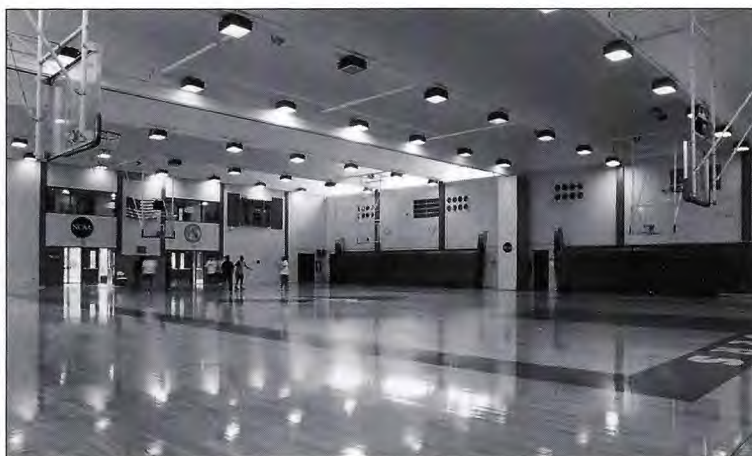

NJIT plays an essential role in the economic and social life of the state and nation. At NJIT, the objective is to provide graduates with the requisite analytic skills as well as an ability to integrate the work of multiple disciplines to manage and lead knowledge-based and technology-dependent businesses.

The mission of a technological university requires that NJIT continue to recognize emerging trends in the economy, the sciences, and technology, and to anticipate their impact on society by developing appropriate educational and research programs.

Athletics Facilities

The NJIT men's and women's basketball teams play their home games at Entwisle Gymnasium, the main facility in the Estelle and "Zoom" Fleisher Athletic Center.

Entwisle, with seating for approximately 1,500 spectators, is also home to the Highlanders' men's and women's volleyball teams. The back bay, "C gym," area can be sectioned off from the main floor, making the entire gymnasium area useful for intramural events, physical education classes, and campus recreation time, and able to host multiple events simultaneously.

The basketball teams also have access to all of the other facilities in the athletic center. These include the fitness area (containing computer controlled biking equipment, Cybex resistance units, and an indoor track), two weight rooms (free-weight and hammer-strength), four racquetball courts (which can be converted for squash), a martial arts center, and an aerobics/dance studio. A six-lane swimming pool is home to NJIT's men's and women's swimming teams, while the two varsity tennis squads host meets and practices at four lighted outdoor hardcourt tennis courts behind the building.

The NJIT baseball and men's and women's soccer teams play and practice at Lubetkin Field, a lighted, natural-grass campus facility immediately adjacent to the Fleisher Center. Lubetkin, which is also used for physical education and intramurals, contains a midfield scoreboard and pressbox facilities, with seating to hold approximately 1,000 spectators.

NJIT also offers several club sports, including bowling, cricket, golf, judo, men's lacrosse and wrestling, plus a full intramural program. The Hazell Student Center houses six regulation bowling lanes.

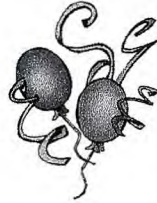

Physical education offerings include aerobics, archery, bowling, dance, fencing, golf, karate, learn to swim, skiing, strength training and conditioning, volleyball and water safety.

THE MURRAY CENTER FOR WOMEN IN TECHNOLOGY

The Murray Center for Women in Technology @ NJIT is a comfortable place to hang out, meet new friends, or check your email. Our Big Sister-Little Sister and Alumnae-Student mentoring programs give women students the kind of warm personal support and practical networking experience that is crucial to success in a technological environment.

The Murray Center is a hub for the Society of Women Engineers (SWE) and dozens of other student clubs. During Women's History Month (March) and throughout the year, the Center invites women leaders from business and industry to talk about how they shaped their careers. Dress-for-success, resume-writing, and other workshops give students a head start in shaping their own careers. We also find time to picnic, party, and generally have fun!

The Murray Center is located on the second floor of the Hazell Student Center. It is open from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday— Friday.

CENTRAL ATLANTIC
COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE

When NJIT reclassified its athletic programs to NCAA Division II from Division III in 1997, the Highlanders joined the New York Collegiate Athletic Conference (NYCAC). After three years of NYCAC play, the Highlanders began a new era in the fall of 2000 when they became members of the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference (CACC).

The CACC is in a transitional phase. For the last two seasons, NJIT was the only league school with full NCAA membership. The others were in a provisional period while switching affiliation from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

However, six other CACC members have completed their provisional requirements and will make their NCAA debuts in 2002-03: Bloomfield College, Caldwell College, Dominican (N.Y.) College, Felician College, Georgian Court College, and Teikyo Post University.

The CACC has allowed the Highlanders to save tremendously on travel time and costs. NJIT is centrally located in the conference, and four other member schools are in New Jersey, creating the opportunity for heated local rivalries. The CACC champion does not receive an automatic bid to the NCAA Division II Tournament, but Highlanders are eligible for both the NCAA and ECAC playoffs on an at-large basis.

More information is available at www.caccathletics.org.
