SPENCER RECEIVES NJIT SCHOLARSHIP

NEWARK, N.J. -- J. Lloyd Spencer of East Orange is the recipient of New Jersey Institute of Technology's Peter Small Award, a $1000 scholarship named in memory of a student leader who died while attending NJIT. The award was presented at the university's commencement exercises Thursday, May 23.

Spencer, a native of Jamaica, West Indies, is pursuing a bachelor of science degree in industrial administration at NJIT, where he is chairman of the Caribbean Students Organization and a member of the Black Association of Student Engineers. He holds an associate degree in business computer programming from Essex County College.
