Office: GITC 3902C

Meeting: Monday/Thursday 2:30-3:50pm CKB 212

Office hours:

Mondays and Thursdays 1 pm -2 pm

Additional Office Hours available by appointment

Prerequisites: None

Course Description:

This course covers the design and evaluation of the human-computer interface in interactive computer systems. Among the topics covered are approaches to interface design such as menus, commands, direct manipulation; screen layout strategies; metaphor models; models of human information processes; evaluation approaches such as protocol for analysis, interactive monitoring, use of surveys; and requirements for documentation and help. Students are expected to design interface mockups and evaluate them.

Course Learning Outcomes:

By the end of the course, you will be able to:

Discuss User-Centered and User Experience Design processes

Identify and communicate user needs, problems and opportunities in UX

Design and communicate solutions using UX documents and artifacts

Create prototypes using analog and digital techniques

Evaluate existing solutions and prototypes

Collaborate as part of a team on a semester long project

Academic Integrity Policy

"Academic Integrity is the cornerstone of higher education and is central to the ideals of this course and the university. Cheating is strictly prohibited and devalues the degree that you are working on. As a member of the NJIT community, it is your responsibility to protect your educational investment by knowing and following the academic code of integrity policy that is found at: <http://www5.njit.edu/policies/sites/policies/files/academic-integrity-code.pdf>.

Please note that it is my professional obligation and responsibility to report any academic misconduct to the Dean of Students Office. Any student found in violation of the code by cheating, plagiarizing or using any online software inappropriately will result in disciplinary action. This may include a failing grade of F, and/or suspension or dismissal from the university. If you have any questions about the code of Academic Integrity, please contact the Dean of Students Office at dos@njit.edu"
